LSRI COURSE WELCOME AND OVERVIEW
FAA Approved Course LSRI 062601

WELCOME & OVERVIEW

EAA Chapter 297 hosts an FAA approved Light Sport Repairman–Inspector Course (LSRI 062601) at 7NC1. The course is offered once a quarter with a maximum attendance of 16 individuals. (A wait list is available)

The course takes place in Stag Air Parks EAA Chapter 297's meeting room, affectionately called the "No Whining Saloon." Practical Hands-on training will be held in the aircraft hangars next to the No Whining Saloon.

WHEN TO ARRIVE

Please arrive promptly at 7:30 AM each morning. Class begins at 8:00 AM, and administrative tasks must be completed beforehand.

WHAT TO BRING

Laptop Computer. The classroom tables can accommodate laptops, and electrical outlets will be available. Each student will receive a thumb drive containing relevant reference documents.

Aircraft Documents. The FAA issues OPERATING LIMITATIONS for experimental aircraft. Because these documents will be referenced frequently during the course, bring yours if available for easy reference.

WHAT TO WEAR

The meeting room is climate-controlled. Saturday is spent mostly in the No Whining Saloon (classroom), so dress comfortably. On Sunday afternoon, you will perform inspection procedures in the aircraft hangars; wear comfortable work clothes appropriate for the season and outdoor temperature.

FOOD AND REFRESHMENTS

Coffee and pastries will be available each morning before class.

Coffee, water, soda, and snacks will be available throughout the classroom day.

Lunch will be provided each day of class.

GETTING TO STAG AIR PARK
